UNITED STATES SEVENTH FLEET

The President of the United States takes pleasure in presenting the Air Medal (Second Strike/Flight Award) to

Lieutenant Jay L. JOHNSON
United States Navy

for service as set forth in the following:

CITATION

"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as a pilot of jet aircraft while attached to Fighter Squadron ONE HUNDRED NINETY-ONE embarked in USS ORISKANY (CVA-34), engaged in combat operations against the enemy in South-east Asia from 6 August 1971 to 19 November 1971. In the successful completion of five strikes, and twenty-six flights, Lieutenant JOHNSON contributed materially to the success of the United States' efforts in South-east Asia. His devotion to duty in the face of enemy fire, under hazardous flying conditions, was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

The numeral "2" to represent two Strike/Flight Awards is authorized.

1. It is through superb individual effort and devotion to duty at all levels within the command that the receipt of the COMNAVAIRPAC Battle Efficiency Award was made possible. Your meritorious performance while attached to this command directly contributed to this accomplishment. For this, I wish to commend your individual efforts and express my appreciation.

2. References (a), (b), (c), and (d) are quoted for information.

Reference (a): "COMNAVAIRPAC takes pleasure in awarding the Battle Efficiency Pennant to Fighter Squadron ONE NINE ONE for standing first in Battle Efficiency competition among F8 Fighter Squadrons assigned to NAVAIRPAC during the competitive cycle 1 January 1970 through 30 June 1971. You are to be additionally congratulated for winning the coveted award for the second consecutive cycle. Inasmuch as the outstanding performance of the entire command was a team effort, the Commanding Officer is requested to make appropriate entries in the personnel records of the officers and men whose contributions materially aided in winning the award."

Reference (b): "COMNAVAIRPAC recognizes the superior performances of the officers and men of Fighter Squadron 191 by the awarding of the Battle Efficiency Award. Each of you can take great pride in this achievement, which was won only with the hard work and professionalism of all hands. Congratulation and Well Done. VADM E. P. MACK, USN, COMSEVENTHFLT."

Reference (c): "Congratulations to the officers and men of Fighter Squadron 191 for your selection to receive the 1976-77 NAVAIRPAC F8 Squadron Battle Efficiency Pennant. We are particularly pleased to have SATANS KITTENS with CTF 77. Well Done. RADM D. W. COOPER."

Reference (d): "Your selection as recipient of the F8 Battle Efficiency Award is noted with great pride and is indicative of exemplary performance by all concerned. I convey my heartiest congratulations to all hands. Captain Armistead B. SMITH, Jr. COMFAIRMIRAMAR"

Naval Air Force United States Atlantic Fleet

Headquarters of the Commander

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the NAVY COMMENDATION MEDAL to

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER JAY L. JOHNSON

UNITED STATES NAVY

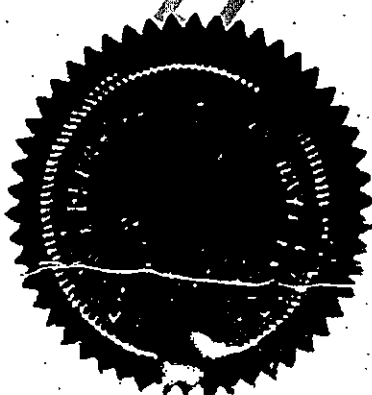

for service as set forth in the following
CITATION:

For meritorious service while serving as Maintenance Officer in Fighter Squadron ONE HUNDRED FORTY-TWO from 16 January to 12 July 1979. Demonstrating exceptional initiative and superb direction and management of scarce experienced personnel, Lieutenant Commander JOHNSON was able to provide all ten of the squadron aircraft in a full systems capable status for the deployment aboard, setting a Naval Air Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet first. Thereafter, he provided a daily average of six up aircraft to successfully meet a grueling operations schedule throughout the deployment. Constantly fraught with supply and key management personnel shortages, he regularly overcame seemingly insurmountable problems through his superb management and leadership. His outstanding relationship with ship's ALMD and supply personnel coupled with a relentless drive to provide serviceable aircraft served as a key factor to an impressive sortie completion rate. Lieutenant Commander JOHNSON's inspired leadership, professionalism and total dedication to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Naval Service.

The President of the United States takes pleasure in presenting the MERITORIOUS SERVICE MEDAL to

COMMANDER JAY L. JOHNSON
UNITED STATES NAVY

(b)(6)

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For outstanding meritorious service as Head, Aviation Junior Officer Branch, Naval Military Personnel Command from February 1983 to September 1984. Commander Johnson's performance while executing the wide spectrum of duties associated with this most demanding and essential position was uniformly superior. Through inspirational leadership and use of innovative management techniques, he optimized fleet manning while remaining sensitive and responsive to the career needs and personal desires of his constituents. His foresight, flawless judgment, and meticulous attention to detail ensured the right officer was assigned to the right job despite personnel shortages and severe fiscal constraints. Commander Johnson's charismatic leadership, consummate professionalism, and loyal devotion to duty reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

The President of the United States takes pleasure in presenting the MERITORIOUS SERVICE MEDAL (Gold Star in lieu of the Second Award) to

COMMANDER JAY L. JOHNSON
UNITED STATES NAVY (b)(6)

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For outstanding meritorious service as Commander, Carrier Air Wing ONE from March 1985 to July 1986. Through extremely competent, inspirational, and resourceful leadership, Commander Johnson was singularly responsible for the unprecedented levels of achievement and combat readiness attained by Carrier Air Wing ONE during his tenure. He demonstrated superb planning and brilliant execution of the first ever Norwegian Veste Fjord Aircraft Carrier Operations. His masterful planning and direction of the Air Wing ONE aircraft material readiness program culminated in unprecedented aircraft availability and sortie completion rates during Battle Group Operations in SECOND and SIXTH Fleets thereby significantly enhancing combat readiness. Dedicated to operational supremacy, Commander Johnson pioneered a tactically sound and meticulously complete war-at-sea tactic to counter high threat surface action groups superbly incorporating the expanded capability of HARM and HARPOON to minimize risk to Air Wing assets. Under his leadership, Air Wing ONE provided a credible and formidable presence in response to national tasking during Operations PRAIRIE FIRE and EL DORADO CANYON in the Gulf of Sidra. Commander Johnson's adroit leadership, superb judgment, and inspiring devotion to duty reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

He demonstrated superb planning and brilliant execution of the first ever Norwegian Veste Fjord Aircraft Carrier Operations. His masterful planning and direction of the Air Wing ONE aircraft material readiness program culminated in unprecedented aircraft availability and sortie completion rates during Battle Group Operations in SECOND and SIXTH Fleets, thereby significantly enhancing combat readiness. During this period, Carrier Air Wing ONE participated in a Freedom of Navigation exercise with other Naval forces in international waters and air space illegally claimed by Libya. On 15 April 1986, in response to additional terrorist activities, he personally led his aircrews in superbly executing a coordinated joint Navy/Air Force strike against terrorist support facilities in Libya. Under his leadership, Air Wing ONE provided a credible and formidable presence in response to national tasking during Operations PRAIRIE FIRE and ELDORADO CANYON in the Gulf of Sidra. for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service as Commander, Carrier Air Wing ONE from February 1988 to June 1989. Captain Johnson's extraordinary leadership and management were instrumental in molding a Carrier Air Wing that had been shorebased for over 15 months into a premier combat ready unit in support of national objectives. His intense involvement in every facet of the Air Wing's employment proved to be the driving force in the superb achievements in flight safety, operational readiness, and aircraft availability as the Wing served with distinction in the SECOND and SIXTH Fleets. An accomplished tactician, skilled administrator, and exceptional leader, Captain Johnson masterfully devised the plan that fully integrated the FA-18C Hornet into routine CV operations and developed its strike capabilities to new levels of excellence. His premier use of the FA-18C in the Outer Air Battle set the precedent for other CV Air Wings to follow. By his astute guidance, sound judgment, and inspiring devotion to duty, Captain Johnson reflected great credit upon himself and upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

COMMANDER, CARRIER GROUP EIGHT

for service as set forth in the following
CITATION:

For meritorious service during assigned missions from March to August 1993. The personnel of USS THEODORE ROOSEVELT (CVN 71) and the embarked units conducted operations of international significance in the Mediterranean Sea, Adriatic Sea, and Red Sea. With an unprecedented 90 percent operations tempo, the sailors and Marines in THEODORE ROOSEVELT were the multinational leaders in operations DENY FLIGHT, PROVIDE PROMISE, and MARITIME GUARD performing with extraordinary success and dedication. With no notice, the carrier turned from a long overdue port visit and departed the Mediterranean to participate in operation SOUTHERN WATCH in the Red Sea. With over 16,000 flight hours and 6,000 operational missions in support of North Atlantic Treaty Organization and United States national taskings, the presence of THEODORE ROOSEVELT was felt throughout the European theater. The truly outstanding record and performance attests to their extraordinary dedication, professionalism, and skills. By their unrelenting determination, perseverance, and steadfast devotion to duty, the officers and enlisted personnel embarked in USS THEODORE ROOSEVELT (CVN 71) reflected credit upon themselves and upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

TO

Jay L. Johnson

Vice Admiral Jay L. Johnson, United States Navy, distinguished himself by exceptionally distinguished service as Commander, Joint Task Force (JTF) ONE TWO ZERO/NINE FIVE ZERO, as Commander, Striking Fleet Atlantic, and as Commander, Second Fleet, Norfolk, Virginia, from July 1994 to February 1996. Under Admiral Johnson's visionary leadership, the JTF revolutionized the Nation's approach to joint force and multinational warfighting and fostered the United States' role as the leader in the JTF arena. These actions increased the overall effectiveness and survivability of our military forces. His contributions helped to define and implement the naval force doctrine of the future. The distinctive accomplishments of Admiral Johnson reflect great credit upon himself, the United States Navy, and the Department of Defense.

For exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service as Assistant Chief of Naval Personnel for Distribution, Bureau of Naval Personnel (BUPERS), Washington, D.C. from June 1990 to September 1992.

Rear Admiral Johnson directed an extraordinarily innovative and aggressive personnel distribution program in the assignment of 560,000 officer and enlisted personnel throughout the Navy in support of Fleet readiness. He developed numerous initiatives to improve responsiveness to the personnel requirements of the Navy and the professional needs and personal desires of individual sailors while simultaneously coordinating the reduction of personnel to comply with congressionally mandated force reductions. Through his diligence and tenacity, Rear Admiral Johnson was instrumental in the implementation and refinement of the BUPERS ACCESS electronic bulletin board system that significantly improved Fleet sailor to Bureau communication.

By his sterling leadership, insightful judgment, and steadfast devotion to duty, Rear Admiral Johnson reflected great credit upon himself and upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious service to the Government of the United States in a duty of great responsibility while serving consecutively as Vice Chief of Naval Operations and Chief of Naval Operations from March 1996 to July 2000.

Admiral Johnson skillfully led Navy through a dramatic period of rapid global change, developing and implementing a wholly new strategy to guide our nation's maritime forces into the twenty first century. After taking the helm under extremely difficult circumstances, he charted a new course for the Navy under his guiding stars of Operational Primacy, Leadership, Teamwork and Pride. With his guidance, Navy leaders planned and flawlessly executed a number of joint and combined operations, markedly enhancing security and stability around the globe. In addition, he instituted a series of Quality of Life initiatives including pay restructuring, health care, information technology, Inter-Deployment Training Cycle reductions, and readiness improvements that positively enhanced the lives of Sailors. His relentless pursuit of excellence and willingness to make courageous changes were key factors in shaping the most powerful maritime force in our history.

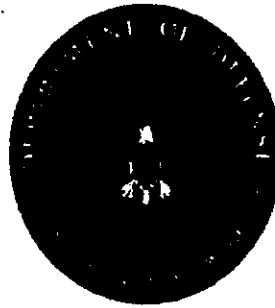

Admiral Johnson's superb leadership, distinctive achievements, and unselfish devotion to duty reflected great credit upon him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

Admiral Jay L. Johnson, United States Navy, demonstrated exceptionally distinguished service as Chief of Naval Operations, from May 1996 to July 2000. Admiral Johnson's impressive leadership and uncommon vision were the driving force in guiding the Navy through a period of intense joint operations overseas. Facing major budget challenges, he worked tirelessly to shape a more capable Navy to meet both the operational commitments of the present and the long-term requirements of the Twenty First Century. As a Joint Chiefs of Staff member and the Navy's principal operational authority, he provided invaluable oversight in preparations for several extraordinarily successful joint operations, including Operations ALLIED FORCE, NOBLE RESPONSE, DESERT THUNDER, and DESERT FOX. His expert management of the Navy's programs and budgets resulted in the implementation of revolutionary new levels of capability for the Navy's next generation of ships, aircraft and information systems. With an uncompromising commitment to enhancing quality of life of the Navy's people, he directed major improvements in the inter-deployment workload of sea-duty commands, and expansions in training and professional opportunities for all Sailors. These efforts reversed declining trends in recruiting and retention and boosted the morale and professionalism of the Navy. The distinctive accomplishments of Admiral Johnson culminate a long and distinguished career in the service of his country and reflect great credit upon himself, the United States Navy, and the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

Ref: (a) OPNAVINST 3120.32A
(b) NIMITZINST 1540.5A

1. The responsibilities of the Command Duty Officer (In Port), delineated in reference (a), are numerous and varied on a ship as immense and complex as NIMITZ. These responsibilities are not assigned lightly for they carry with them the welfare and safety of the ship and its crew members as well as the smooth functioning of the ship's daily routine.

2. You have completed the Command Duty Officer (In Port) training program, delineated in reference (b), and performed actual watch standing duties under close observation. In discharging your responsibilities you exhibited initiative, sound judgement, and attention to all required duties. You are therefore considered qualified in all respects and in accordance with the provisions set forth in reference (b), you are designated as a Command Duty Officer (In Port).

3. Congratulations on achieving this significant professional qualification. (b)(6)

Ref: (a) NIMITZINST 1540.5A
(b) OPNAVINST 3120.32
(c) Commanding Officer's Standing Orders

1. As a result of your completion of the Command Duty Officer (Underway) Training Program as delineated in reference (a), and of your demonstration of sound judgment and excellent shiphandling abilities, you are hereby considered qualified in all respects to stand Command Duty Officer (Underway) watches. This designation is based upon observation of your performance in conducting approaches to other vessels, in coming alongside during replenishment, while getting underway and entering port, and while conducting flight operations. In accordance with the provisions set forth in reference (a), you are hereby designated as Command Duty Officer (Underway).

2. The duties of Command Duty Officer (Underway) will be performed in accordance with the applicable sections of references (b) and (c) and with the customs and traditions of the United States Navy. This qualification represents a significant accomplishment in your development as a future leader in the operating forces. You have my sincerest congratulations. Well done! (b)(6)

Ref: (a) AMERICAINST 3180.1P

1. You are hereby qualified as a Conning Officer during Underway Replenishment. This qualification is based upon seamanship ability you have demonstrated in executing the following shiphandling evolutions during Underway Replenishment:

- a. Day and night approaches to and breakaways from replenishment ships.
- b. Conning alongside replenishment ships.
- c. Emergency breakaways from replenishment ships.

You have demonstrated a thorough knowledge of CV shiphandling during this most critical and exacting evolution.
